The NEC Native Education College is a private college for Indigenous learners to live their cultural heritage and realize their true potential. NEC works to strengthen Indigenous communities through accredited programs that lead to employment and higher learning. The Indigenous cultural values in NEC programs are at the core of reconciliation, economic success and a sustainable future for all nations.

NEC is currently seeking an Instructor to co-deliver a course (maximum 40 contact hours) with an SFU Instructor in Community Economic Development; to co-develop the course ‘Indigenous Human-Centered Design Leadership’. The curriculum will include the following: • Indigenous and non-Indigenous models of social change leadership; • design approaches for addressing community challenges; • foundations for social enterprise and lean start-up methods; • project management and design lifecycles; • community-based research; • prototyping, pivoting, and testing; • presentation and pitching skills. The instructor will ensure that NEC policy and procedures are followed and appropriate documentation is completed.

Qualifications:
Any combination of education and work experience as follows will be considered:
- BA in economic development or a field related to human-centered design or equivalent in traditional Indigenous knowledge.
- At least five years of experience in a field related to social innovation and other approaches to problem solving for core human needs.
- Excellent oral, written communication skills and able to work independently and in a team.
- Instructional experience and a demonstrated understanding of Indigenous teaching methodology.
- Only a person of Indigenous ancestry will be considered for this position.

Terms:
Appointment to this part-time contract position will require a formal criminal record check, the details of which may preclude finalizing an offer of employment. This position is open to both male and female candidates. Preference will be given to qualified Indigenous applicants.

Closing Date: Tuesday, December 17, 2019
Start Date: January 6, 2020 (curriculum development), February (instruction)
End Date: May 8, 2020 (a second cohort is planned)
Hours: 14 hours per week
Salary: $45/hour

Application Details:
Please submit your resume and a cover letter outlining your interest and detailing how you meet the above qualifications. Only short listed applicants will be contacted. Address your application to:
