NEC Native Education College is a large private Aboriginal college in Vancouver and also works with First Nations and Aboriginal organizations to deliver programs in locations throughout British Columbia. NEC works to strengthen Indigenous communities through accredited programs that lead to employment and higher learning. The Indigenous Land Stewardship (ILS) program offers students career preparation in land and resource management as well as a gateway to higher education. The program is currently seeking Casual Instructor(s) for the following courses:

- ILS 150 – Indigenous Governance, Law and the Environment
  Explores the complex connections of Indigenous governance systems, colonialism and law through the lens of land issues.

- ILS 160 – Contemporary Issues in Indigenous Land Stewardship
  Aboriginal rights will be studies in the context of historical and ongoing responses to colonialism that include political, social, artistic and other expressions of community resurgence and self-government.

- ILS 170 – Leadership and Program Management
  An overview of leadership and program management methods relevant to land stewardship. Examples of successful Indigenous and western methods of leadership will be explored with an emphasis on how traditional practices may be applied to enhance community development.

Preferred Qualifications:
Any combination of education and work experience as follows will be considered:

- Bachelor’s degree in a related field (Master’s or PhD preferred);
- at least 2 years experience in a relevant field;
- Significant teaching experience, preferably in the post-secondary education system;
- Excellent verbal, written and computer communication skills;
- Knowledge of Indigenous values, communities and instructional methodology, and experience working with Indigenous organizations and Indigenous adults.

Terms:
Appointment to this part time, contract position will require a formal criminal record check, the details of which may preclude finalizing an offer of employment. This position is open to male and female applicants. Preference will be given to qualified Aboriginal applicants.
